

HOLD BOY FOR TAKING $30 FROM FRIENDS

Plymouth Youth Bound Over to Grand Jury on Charge of Larceny.

Barney Hillsman, 16-year-old Plymouth youth, was bound over to the grand jury by Judge Farabaugh Monday morning on a charge of stealing $30 from Mrs. Rachel Myers, 221 Ewing st., the mother of an old school friend with whom he had been boarding.

The money was taken last May, young Hillsman skipping out at the same time. Ten days later the boy came back, confessed to taking the money and promised to make it good. His resolution seemed to waver after that, however, for he skipped out again and wasn't seen in South Bend again until last week when he was arrested.

"I saw the money lying there in the drawer," the boy told the Myers family in his original confession, "and I kept thinking when I could get it without the mother finding out, I would take it."

Hillsman was held in $200 bonds on a charge of grand larceny.

ASK HARLIN IF HE FORGED MEN'S NAMES

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE.) to Chicago he would furnish ample security in the form of stocks and bonds which he kept in a bank there, and replied in the negative to the question.

He denied that he ever owned stock in a distillery. He said that he had once held approximately $10,000 worth of such stock in trust for Clara A. Ward, of Chicago, but said that he himself had no interest in the stock.

Couldn't Remember. During the examination Harlin was asked to explain in detail many transactions during the past few years. There were several, however, which he could not remember and for which he had no books to refer to.

Atty. Parker began his examination by referring to an affidavit signed by Harlin when he was made surety in a suit in the United States circuit court entitled Healy versus the National Wirebound Box Corporation. In this affidavit Harlin purported to be worth $200,000. Of this $200,000 was in real estate, according to the affidavit.

During the examination Harlin said a great part of this property, both real and personal, was held in trust by him for others and that much of the remainder which was actually his, had been sold since the affidavit was made, Jan. 18, 1910.

The greater part of the property he held in trust for Lee R. Skeritt, a former music dealer in this city. Besides real estate this included a piano and a car, on which Harlin was receiving payments to be turned over to Skeritt. He declared he was told to represent himself as the owner of the property under an understanding with a piano dealer, which Skeritt was involved, in order that Skeritt might not make claim on it.

Asked About Notes. Concerning several notes executed in favor of the late Thomas E. A. Byerly, who entrusted his money to Harlin for investment. The notes purported to be given by Amos J. Hall, Dis. Ludwig, and Clinton Caldwell, and H. A. Leffingwell at various times for different sums. Harlin was asked if he himself had not written the names of these men on the notes. To each question he replied in the negative.

"I couldn't say. But I don't believe I did." Harlin signed each of the notes as endorser on the back.

PROMINENT LITERARY WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Anna H. Listenberg, 57, died Saturday evening at her home, 115 S. Lafayette st., after an illness of three days. Upon Christmas day, though in her usual health, later in the day she gave evidences of the attack that followed in the night. She suffered a severe stroke of paralysis and having been in poor health for a number of years the attack proved fatal.

Mrs. Listenberg was born in Lafayette, Ind. and it was in that city she met and married Miner E. Listenberg in 1872. The couple moved immediately to South Bend and have resided there since.

She had, until within the last year or two, been prominent in the social and literary life of South Bend. She was one of the earliest members of the Woman's Literary club and had until recently taken an active interest in its work.

Mrs. Listenberg was one of the most zealous workers in the membership of the First Presbyterian church.

She is survived by her husband, Miner E. Listenberg, and a brother, Julius Hall, of Attica, Ind.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Charles A. Lippincott will officiate and the body will be taken to Lafayette for burial.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Hans Schmidt, confessed slayer of Anna Ammiller, may know his fate before night.

Judge W. M. K. Olcott for the defense, predicted Monday that the jury would find his client insane, but Prosecutor Delehanty declared the state alienists had ridged the insanity plea and demanded the death penalty.

INQUEST MAY NOT DISCLOSE IDENTITY OF CALUMET FIEND

At 10 o'clock Coroner W. T. Fisher ordered that the crowd be quiet, and threatened with ejection from the hall any one who interrupted the session of the coroner's court.

Several hundred persons surged about the doors of the hall, unable to press inside the building. Tall miners who had gained positions in the doorways shouted back to the outsiders that was going on inside the building.

Trouble was anticipated when the variety of stories about the cause of the panic are told. Affidavits that were obtained by the coroner and his deputies give more than a score of different versions of the panic. Several persons who were scheduled to appear as witnesses Monday had made affidavits that the cry of fire was shouted by a man who wore a button of the Citizens' Alliance. Other witnesses declare the man wore no insignia.

Stories Vary Widely. The man who started the wild rush for the doors of Italian hall while the Christmas eve celebration was at its height has been described in sworn statements as wearing a heavy black strob, 15 E. Marion st., Monday night, absolutely smooth faced, middle aged, youthful, well dressed, shabbily clothed, sober and intoxicated.

The various descriptions of the man have utterly confused the police in their search for him, because every one who has described the man and made affidavit as to his appearance was absolutely certain of the man's description. Many members of the Citizens' Alliance, an organization of the business men of the Calumet district, who are considered hostile to the cause of the striking miners, were in the crowd that filled the hall. They were there to offer testimony refuting the charge that the panic was planned by the alliance and executed by one of its members.

Funerals of seven more of the victims of the disaster were held Monday. The last two of the 72 bodies will be buried Tuesday. The funeral committee of the Western Federation of Miners directed the burial of the seven bodies Monday.

APPEAL TO CONGRESS.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—An appeal to congress to investigate conditions in the copper country of Michigan was made Sunday by the Chicago Federation of Labor, in resolutions which directly charge owners of the mine and their agents with being responsible for the tragedy of Christmas eve, when 72 children and adults lost their lives.

The resolutions which were adopted at a big meeting, declare: "Since the 23rd of July, two of the striking miners while peacefully living in their own homes were fully and cowardly murdered in cold blood, by the imported murderers, gunmen and thugs brought there by the copper mine owners to drive the striking miners back to the mines like slaves, and."

"Whereas these imported desperadoes have also shot a part of a little girl's head off, brutally beaten up the striking miners, their women and children, abused and insulted them as part of their everyday work, and."

"Whereas, as a direct result of the determination of Shaw, Agassiz and other owners, of the copper mines to prevent the organization of their slaves for self-protection, and to persecute and drive union leaders and organizers from the copper country so many human lives were lost on Christmas eve, many of them being children of the miners, and."

"Whereas, the blood of these innocent children, whose lives were lost in that awful panic, is upon the hands of the mine owners, who first tried to starve the parents into submission, and slavery, and then after the calamity, tried to force upon the suffer-

MOYER NOT IN DANGER. CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—There is only the most remote chance that the wound in Charles H. Moyer's back will prove fatal, it was said Sunday night. Probably within ten days he will be back in the copper country of Michigan directing the strike as president of the Western Federation of Miners.

Optimistic news of his condition came from Doctors G. V. Hilton and William H. Harshel at St. Luke's hospital Sunday when the skiagraph showed that the bullet was embedded in the muscles of the left shoulder. Within 48 hours the surgeons will know whether it is best to remove the bullet. Unless blood poisoning develops, it is probable the bullet will be allowed to stay where it is unless the proposed investigation of the shooting at Hancock, Mich., demands that the calibre of the bullet be ascertained in order to trace the man who fired the shot.

"Whereas, citizens of Houghton county, together with imported thugs and gunmen, brutally assaulted and shot Charles H. Moyer, president, and Charles H. Tanner, auditor of the Western Federation of Miners, and by force and at the point of guns, drove both Moyer and Tanner from Houghton county and the state of Michigan resolved. That the assembled citizens of the United States appeal, as a last resort to the congress of the United States to investigate conditions in the copper country of Michigan to the end that the people of this country may know the truth and that all citizens may be protected in their rights guaranteed by the constitution."
